

Introduction to Couples Counseling

Welcome to counseling. I look forward to meeting with you and getting started. People and their situations are often very complex – I need to understand as much of the context as I can in order to help with a solution. The following paperwork (though extensive) is designed to give me the context quickly. Please complete it and bring it to your initial appointment.

- The informed consent is our formal agreement to enter therapy – please be sure that you understand all the items, if not, ask me about them before you sign the form. Each adult needs to sign the consent form.
- Two disclosure forms follow pertaining to the sharing of information as well as email communications – these are self-explanatory.
- The “questionnaire” follows – only one person needs to complete it.
- With two people come two perspectives – each adult needs to complete the “reasons for seeking counseling” the “problems and other symptoms” and the “substance use checklist” paperwork – two copies of each form are included. Please complete these three sections without input from the other person.

I appreciate the opportunity to work with you. If you have any questions, feel free to call me directly, 760-494-4394,

Sincerely,

Jussi Light, M.A., LMFT

Informed Consent - each adult should review, understand and sign below

Your signature at the bottom of this page means that you understand and consent to the following policies and procedures:

Counseling is a collaborative process between therapist and patient(s) who work together on mutually agreed upon goals.

Participation is voluntary and is only effective when both patient(s) and therapist are actively striving for the patient's growth and change. Patients realize that participation in therapy can involve discussing issues that may be distressing – however, therapy is designed to help patients personally and in their relationships. When minors are involved, it may be necessary that parent(s)/guardian(s) participate in the counseling process with their child(ren) at the discretion of the therapist. Some problems may be best resolved with the participation of other family members or close relations.

Appointments are made in advance and start and end on time – a session lasts 50 minutes. If a patient is late, the session will still cost full price and end at the pre-arranged time. 24-hour advance notice is expected for cancellation or rescheduling. Any patient who fails to cancel, cancels at the “last minute,” or doesn't attend a regularly scheduled session will be held responsible for full payment of the missed session. Lateness, or cancellations made by the therapist will be rescheduled.

Emergencies: in the event of an emergency dial 911 or 800-479-3339. The therapist is available via telephone (760-494-4394 – sorry text messages are not received at this number) during business hours and will return emergency calls at his discretion. However, most phone calls will be returned during normal business hours on weekdays.

Payment is expected at the time of service and will be collected at the beginning of the session. Any check that is returned for insufficient funds will be assessed a $25 fee.

Confidentiality is vital to trust - all sessions are confidential. This means the therapist will not discuss any aspect of the session or case with anyone outside of therapy without prior written consent of patient(s). It is important that all patients (especially children) have a confidential relationship with their therapist.

- Individuals attending therapy due to a court mandate or as consequence or condition of probation/parole may have to waive their rights to confidentiality and the therapist may be able to communicate to your probation/parole officer regarding your case.
- If you have health insurance that covers services, a minimum of information will need to be exchanged to insure reimbursement – however, you will be required to sign an authorization to release information.
- Secrets within relationships sometimes can be destructive or counter-productive to the goals of therapy. If a patient divulges such a secret to the therapist, the therapist will use his discretion about revealing it. Generally, the therapist will ask the patient to divulge the secret – if the therapist believes the secret is destructive or counter-productive to the counseling process, he may refuse to continue working with the patient until the patient reveals the secret. In cases of danger, the therapist may reveal the secret to maintain safety.

Limits of confidentiality: The following are exceptions to confidentiality and MUST BE REPORTED to the appropriate service and/or police. Please note – these reports are mandated by law and may be made without your consent or written permission.

1. If a patient (s) become a danger to himself/herself, steps will be taken to keep the person safe.
2. If the patient should become a danger to another identifiable person(s), the potential victim(s) will be warned and the police will be notified.
3. Any suspicion of child abuse (including physical, sexual, and/or emotional abuse as well as child neglect or endangerment) whether past or present, previously reported or not, will be reported.
4. Any suspicion of abuse or neglect of an elder or dependent adult will be reported to Adult Protective Services.
- 5.

AUTHORIZATION TO USE OR DISCLOSE PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

I understand that Jussi Light uses administrative staff to perform basic clerical functions that are ordinary and typical to run his therapy practice. Jussi Light's staff will ONLY have access to the following types of information about those attending therapy:

1. Demographic information (names, addresses, telephone numbers, email addresses, dates of birth, etc.) taken from client intake questionnaire.
2. Billing information (names, dates, charges, payments, payment methods, diagnostic codes, etc.).
3. Emergency contacts – in the unlikely event that Jussi Light becomes so ill or incapacitated that he is unable to contact me/us, staff may contact me/us regarding logistical issues (for example, to cancel an appointment for Jussi when he is sick).

Staff will not have access to information about the content of counseling and therapy sessions. Staff will not have access to information about any communications (such as telephone, email, mail) that pertain to counseling and therapy matters.

I further understand that administrative staff will send me a monthly statement which acts as a receipt for payments received. It includes billing information (such as a diagnosis, billing codes, patient name, etc.) and is typically sent to me via email. Please check only one:

I will accept monthly statements by email. Please send them to the following email address:

I do not want my monthly statement sent via email. Please give them to me/us directly at sessions.

Email communications with Jussi Light

Please read the following disclosures about communicating with Jussi Light using email:

1. Email is a non-secure and non-confidential form of communication. Hackers and unauthorized users can also attempt to access emails through malicious software such as spyware or a virus that may be located on your computer unbeknownst to you.
2. Many people still feel comfortable communicating via email because they have installed firewalls or other programs designed to detect spyware, viruses, or other dangerous software. However, there is no guarantee that such programs will work 100%.
3. Sent and received emails are stored on both Jussi Light's and your computer until deleted. Jussi Light may or may not delete such emails. Generally, mundane emails (questions about appointments, billing, etc) will be deleted while other emails may be kept for archival purposes. Any such saved emails will be kept in a password-protected account that only Jussi Light has access to.
4. In addition, whenever you send an email, it is stored in cyberspace and the authorities can access these emails under various circumstances – this is not a policy of Jussi Light, but is due to the nature in which email is transmitted using the internet and other services or networks. For more information on this, please contact your Internet Service Provider or email service.
5. Jussi Light will use email to respond to emails that you send him. If you request that your billing statement be emailed to you, he will do so.
6. As a rule, Jussi Light does not conduct therapy via email. However, he may use email to handle certain questions/issues that pertain to therapy and related content if they can be easily and simply handled over email. He may also choose not to email to handle such matters. He will tell you if this is the case.

By signing below, I agree that I understand the disclosures listed above regarding communicating with Jussi Light using email. I also agree that if I send an email to him and request a response via email, that I am willing to accept the above-stated risks:
